

SOBER OCTOBER BINGO

A highly scientific measure of autumn participation

Bought an unnecessary decorative gourd	Watched Practical Magic	Lit a candle before noon	Made soup	Went somewhere specifically to look at leaves
Bought a seasonal beverage based entirely on the name	Wore a sweater when it was objectively too warm	Entered Trader Joe's during pumpkin season	Made plans, then rejoiced when they were canceled	Started a new hobby
Ate the Halloween candy before Halloween	Put on a comfort show you've already seen six times	FREE SPACE: Stayed sober + enjoyed October	Sent someone a picture of a tree	Bought mums. Forgot to water mums.
Made something involving cinnamon	Went to bed absurdly early and loved it	Bought one weird thrift-store treasure	Said, 'I can't believe it's already dark'	Made or ordered a cider doughnut
Put a tiny pumpkin somewhere it did not need to be	Took a walk for the sole purpose of crunching leaves	Declared something 'soup weather'	Canceled absolutely nothing because you wanted to go	Gave a skeleton a name

YOUR SCORE:

0-5 Are you sure you know it's October?

6-10 Respectable autumn participation.

11-15 Strong opinions about cider doughnuts.

16+ Please step away from the decorative gourds.

Actually, don't. It's October.
